"SHINE ON HARVEST MOON" TO BE AT A & G. THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Dipping again into the rich background of our theatre at the turn of the century, as they did for "Yankee Doodle Dandy," Warner Bros. comes forth with another nostalgic plum sure to please both veterans and young theatre-lovers alike. It's "Shine On Harvest Moon," starring Ann Sheridan and Dennis Morgan. In it, the smell of greasepaint and gaslight mingle to produce a warm and lovable story about one of America's best-loved singers—Nora Bayes.

With Ann Sheridan as the beautiful crooner who was the Dinah Shore of her day, "Shine On Harvest Moon" is a film rampant with the rowdiness, music and color that spelled burlesque life in the early 1900's. Legend and the Bros. Warner have it that Nora Bayes was discovered by one Jack Norworth (Dennis Morgan), song writer and vaudevillian, when she was still singing exclusively to Milwaukee audiences in a small cafe known as the Golden Horseshoe. Norworth, as much impressed with the young girl's beauty as with her ability to put over one of his numbers started her on what was eventually to become one of the most notable careers in American songdom.

As the songstress and songwriter, Ann Sheridan and Dennis Morgan exhibit a happy combination of romantic interest and genuine musical ability. They're called upon to do some good, singable numbers in addition to the title song—namely "Time Waits for No One," and "I Go For You," as well as some older, vintage 1906 tunes like "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," "I'm Just Goin' Along As I Please," etc., and perform admirably. Jack Carson as the Great George, magician extraordinary, Marie Wilson as Margie, his stooge, contribute some excellent comedy while Irene Manning imbues the role of the beautiful Blanche Mallory with the proper fury of a woman spurned. S. Z. Sakall, as Poppa Karl, the singer's friend, plays with understanding and warmth.

Songs heard in "Shine on Harvest Moon" are:

My Own United States; Just Like A Gypsy; How Can They Tell That

CUT WOODLANDS SELECTIVELY

Fifteen and one-half billion board feet of lumber . . . enough to load three freight trains reaching from New York to San Francisco . . . are needed this year to make boxes and crates for shipping food, clothing, medical supplies and weapons of war. Farm woodlands and farm labor are needed to produce sawlogs and the pulpwood to make these containers. Mature timber and low grade and inferior trees should be cut from farm woodlands during the slack seasons when labor can be spared from the fields.

By cutting woodlands selectively now the timber land owner can kill three birds with one stone; help furnish essential war material, realize a profit on his merchantable timber and at the same time benefit his timber stand.

Timber production War Project foresters, county foresters and county agents are ready to give assistance in marketing forest products or selective cutting.

The Never-Ending Miracle of Southern Timber

WOOD has always played a vital role in the progress of civilization . . . for homes, factories, furniture, paper, airplanes, ships, farm implements, industrial equipment and other things. New discoveries will provide even greater opportunity for postwar development and employment.

Our southeastern states consistently produce about 30% of the softwood and 50% of the hardwood of the United States—could supply even more if needed. In L & N territory alone, over 2,000 establishments handle timber products of every description. This output in 1942 exceeded $200,000,000 in value, of which over $42,000,000 was paid for labor. Last year the L & N moved 113,000 carloads of these wood products, and otherwise contributed importantly to the development of southern timber resources.

Thus we see the practical application of American Free Enterprise . . . what it has accomplished . . . how men of vision and courage built businesses of their own, and at the same time benefiting their neighbors and adding to the progress of the South.

The immediate purpose of The Old Reliable is to help win the war. This done, its energies will be again directed to the development of an even greater Southern industry—a goal it has pursued throughout more than 94 years of service.

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY "BROADWAY RHYTHM"

with George Murphy and Ginny Simms—Chock-full
Of Color and Gay
Entertainment

"Broadway Rhythm," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Technicolor film at the Ortte Theatre, is a gay and tuneful musical, chock-full of entertainment to please everyone. Ginny Simms, in long a singing favorite of the airwaves, makes her debut as an actress in Technicolor revealing a pretty face and figure and a sparkling personality for the screen and she is perfectly teamed with the popular dancing star, George Murphy.

Murphy is cast as a member of a famous theatrical family and is a successful Broadway producer. He retires his father, Charles Winninger, and does his best to keep his kid sister, Gloria De Haven, in school despite her yearning for the stage. Ginny Simms, playing a Hollywood movie star, comes to New York searching for a play to give her a new shot of the prestige she needs so badly. At first she is interested in Murphy's play but later turns it down because she does not believe it will be a hit. This is the opportunity Winninger has been waiting for. He dusts off one of Murphy's old scripts and joins forces with Miss Simms to produce it in a summer theatre venture.

When Murphy finds out what is going on he becomes estranged from his father and his romance with Miss Simms is nipped in the bud. Things go badly for both productions until Ginny takes matters into her own hands and patches up the breach between Murphy and his father and a Broadway hit is introduced to a cheering audience.

Versatile George Murphy, looking very handsome in a brand new mustache, is well cast as the successful son of show business. He sings well and dances with style and his ingratiating personality is an asset to any screen. After seeing Miss Simms in Technicolor the wonder is that she has been able to remain hidden behind a glamorous microphone all this time. She is an actress of increasing stature and bids fair to become one of the reigning singing personalities of the screen.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

All he wanted was a chance to relax

Ned Buxton was home on furlough last week. And you ought to see the fuss the town made over him. Seems like almost everybody wanted to give a party, or a testimonial dinner, or stage something special in the way of celebration. Of course, Ned acted grateful. But he told me later, all he really wanted was to sit down with a few old friends, enjoy a glass of beer or two, and talk about old times again. I guess that's how many soldiers feel. They don't want a lot of fuss made over them, with formal celebrating and such. What they really like are the simple pleasures—one of Mom's home-cooked meals, visiting with friends over a glass of beer—enjoying things that mean home and comfort and security. From where I sit, our biggest job, apart from helping win the war, is making sure those things are waiting for our men when they come back home for good.

ATTENDS WEDDING

Mrs. C. C. McDonald has returned from Tulsa, Oklahoma, where she attended the wedding of her niece Miss Dorothy Warren to Ensign J. King of Tulsa, a June graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

An interesting feature of the late afternoon wedding at Christ the King was the bridal party made up of the bride's five sisters and the young brother who lit the candles.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Warren home and gardens, and in the receiving line was Mrs. C. C. McDonald.

The couple went East for an extended trip before Ensign King leaves for duty on one of the new battleships.

The bride attended Gulf Park College and her mother, Mrs. McDonald's sister the former Miss Natalie Overall has visited here often and is well known here and on the Coast.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my profound gratitude and appreciation to all my many friends for the magnificent support given me in the City Primary held Saturday past.

I will always remember this honor and any promise I made before of after the election, will be fulfilled.

Again thanking one and all, I remain,

Sincerely,
G. Y. BLAIZE, Mayor.

WEDDING OF MISS MARGARET K. KIST AND WILLIAM L. SIMON OF INTEREST HERE

Miss Margaret K. Kist, daughter of Anthony H. Kist and the late Mrs. Kist of 1118 Boyd Avenue, Johnstown, Penn., and William L. Simon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John J. Simon both of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, were married at a Nuptial Mass at the St. Augustine Seminary chapel on Thursday at nine a.m. the Rev. Father John M. Kist, S. V. D., brother of the bride officiating.

The chapel was artistically decorated in palms and flowers from the garden of the seminary and the bride wore a lovely dress of applied crepe and white lace straw hat and carried an arm bouquet of white asters. She had as her only attendant Mrs. James McFee who wore a dress of pink applied crepe fashioned as the bride's and carried pink asters.

The bridegroom had as his best man Mr. A. G. Favre of Bay St. Louis.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at Hotel Reed for the bridal party. Those present besides the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. A. G. Favre, Father Holken, Father Baker, acting rector of the seminary and Father Kist.

The couple will spend their honeymoon on the coast part of the time at Hotel Reed and after August first will be at home at 4 Shady Lane, Johnstown.

The bride has visited her brother here, who has been a teacher in the Seminary high school for the past ten years, on several occasions and has friends here who are joining the Echo in wishing the couple a long life of happiness.
